OUR HISTORY

In 1993, Jill Savage gathered a group of women to create a small, local, one-time conference event for moms. When 1,100 moms from 10 states showed up, we knew God's vision exceeded our expectations. Today, OVER 100,000 MOMS have been touched by the unique encouragement Hearts at Home offers.

OUR MISSION

Hearts at Home's mission is to ENCOURAGE, EDUCATE, and EQUIP EVERY MOM in every season of motherhood using Christian values to strengthen families.

Hearts at Home knows what moms feel, what questions they have, and the challenges they face.

Hearts at Home is THE GO-TO PLACE FOR MOMS.

OUR GO-TO RESOURCES

“As a mom of three boys, I can truly say that the Hearts at Home Conference is an oasis of encouragement in the middle of the desert. I’m not typically someone who loves retreats and conferences, but this one is an exception. The women are real, and the topics are 100% relevant. Come as you are; be ready to laugh, cry, and be inspired for the next leg of your motherhood journey.”

Dr. Juli Slattery, Author, Speaker and Family Psychologist for Focus on the Family

I've always been a driven person. I had my plans. The idea of motherhood did not fit into my plans at all. But after being married several years, my husband and I unexpectedly found ourselves pregnant.

I did not want be a mom at all. Everyone kept telling me, "The day you have your baby, everything will change." But the truth is...it didn't change. My identity had changed, and I was not happy about that. I didn't want to be a mom.

I sank very deep into a dark place. While it's hard to say now, the truth is, I resented my baby.

A year later, I came to a Hearts at Home conference. Honestly, I didn't want to come because I was in complete denial that I was even a mom!

What was amazing, however, was what happened that day. I turned a corner—a huge corner—in my motherhood journey. I found encouragement, I found resources, I found this community of moms, and the condition of my heart completely changed. I went home, and I wanted to be my daughter's mom.

My daughter is now four, and we've added another little one to our family. I love being a mom. God used Hearts at Home to give me vision, purpose, and direction as a mom.

I thank God for Hearts at Home. It changed my life and my family!
