- 2) Which of these perfect traits of God are you least familiar with: love, strength, identity, hope, truth, or redemption?
- 3) Share your story with the group by answering these questions:
 - a. Where did you grow up?
 - b. Do you have siblings? Older or younger?
 - c. If you're married, how did you meet your husband?
 - d. How has God been a part of your life?
- 4) What is one thing you highlighted/noted as you read this chapter? Why did it strike you as important?

Apply (choose one or all)

Look through Appendix A and identify one or more truths that you want to memorize about your identity in Christ. Write those verses on your phone or an index card you can carry with you. Read them everyday aloud every day this week. Ask God to impress them on your heart.

Look through Appendix B and find a verse that addresses what you are feeling right now. Write that verse on an index card or somewhere where you can see it this week.

If you said "yes" to God for the very first time while you were reading this chapter, email Jill and let her know. You can email her at jillannsavage@yahoo.com.

Pray

Father God, there is nothing that you cannot handle in our imperfect lives. You are love, strength, hope, and truth. This world does not define us. You define us. You can take the broken parts of our lives and redeem them for your purposes. Help us to live in your grace and love and to extend your grace and love to those around us. May we stop striving for perfection, but rather allow you to refine us to become more like you. In Jesus' Name. Amen.
